

People don't want to be disturbed by useless phone calls selling something or asking for money. Usually these come at dinnertime.